For several months, it seems, Gosse was content with the books she had collected. Assuming that the sample of hibernacula studied since the s is representative of all Canadian locations, that current threats continue unabated, and that rates of decline are high e. The Central America ferried passengers to and from California at the height of the Gold Rush in the mid 19th century. The mission was subject to numerous difficulties: seasickness, short tempers, errant weather, malfunctioning equipment, little sleep, and a stretch of time when the only food served was fried chicken.
